Dear DOGS NSW Members,

We hope this message finds you and your furry friends well. As a valued Partner of DOGS NSW, we wanted to take a moment to provide clarity regarding a specific section of the Product Disclosure Statement (PDS) related to our partnership with DOGS NSW.

Policy Coverage Explanation

Policy Exclusions:

This policy is designed to cover pets primarily as companions. Therefore, it does not cover cats or dogs that actively participate in commercial or sporting activities, including:

- Working Animals: Pets engaged in work on a farm, guarding, or other agricultural duties.
- Fighting: Any form of dog fighting.
- Racing: Competitive racing events.
- Personal Protection: Pets trained for personal defence.
- Gun Sports: Hunting or shooting activities, i.e. game hunting.
- Law Enforcement: Pets employed by police or other law enforcement agencies.

Policy Inclusions:

However, this policy may cover pets involved in the following:

- Show Dogs/Cats: Pets participating in conformation shows.
- Search and Rescue Dogs: Pets trained for search and rescue missions.
- Guide Dogs: Dogs assisting individuals with visual impairments.
- Assistance Dogs: Dogs helping individuals with various disabilities.

Coverage for Dogs Australia Activities

We are pleased to confirm that activities listed by Dogs Australia, such as those detailed at <https://www.dogsaustralia.org.au/training-dog-sports>, are covered under this policy. The intent of the policy is to exclude pets actively participating in the actual commercial or high-risk sporting activity, not those involved in competitions or activities that mimic these roles.

For example:

- Agility: Your dog participating in agility trials as a sport is covered*.
- Obedience Trials: Dogs engaged in obedience competitions are covered*.
- Herding Trials: Participation in herding trials as a sport is covered, even though it mimics the actual work of farm herding*.
